Warning: Emails regarding Trademarks misusing the names of genuine individuals purporting to be from 'HSS Legal Services Ltd'

15 September 2025

Emails have been sent from 'HSS Legal Services Ltd' purporting to be from a genuine law firm misusing the details and names of genuine law firms and genuine solicitors in connection with purported trademarking applications.

What is the scam?

The SRA has been informed that emails have been sent to several recipients purporting to be from HSS Legal Services Ltd.

The recipients of the emails have received multiple emails from individuals purporting to be genuine solicitors (see below) regarding trademarks applications which have been submitted to the United Kingdom Intellectual Property Office (UKIPO). The correspondence invites the recipient to secure trademark registration of the company name and offers to assist with this process and if they do not follow the guidance and advise they could face legal consequences.

The correspondence has falsely purported to be from different supposed 'Intellectual Property Solicitors' at the firm. At the time of publication, the correspondence seen by the SRA misuses the names and SRA numbers of three different genuine solicitors (see below), although further names may be similarly misused in further correspondence. The correspondence seen so far was sent from the following email addresses:

- peter@notice.hsslegalservices.com
- fiona@tm.hsslegalservices.com
- martina@notice.hsslegalservices.com

The emails also provide a postal address of Norman Road, Huddersfield, HD2 2UE, England, a website address of 'hsslegalservices.com' and a contact number of '+07482052010'.

Any business or transactions through the email address, postal address and web address mentioned above are not undertaken by any individual or firm authorised and regulated by the SRA.

What should I do?

When a firm's or individual's identity has been copied exactly (or cloned), due diligence is necessary. If you receive correspondence claiming to be from the above firm(s) or individual(s), or information of a similar nature to that described, you should conduct your own due diligence by checking the authenticity of the correspondence by contacting the law firm directly by reliable and established means. You can contact the SRA to find out if individuals or firms are regulated and authorised by the SRA and verify an individual's or firm's practising details. Other verification methods, such as checking public records (e.g. telephone directories and company records) may be required in other circumstances.
